THE TYPOS' FAIR. The Attendance Was Large and Business Was Very Brisk.

President Harrison was not at the Columbi Typographical Union fair last night, but the balance of this city's population seemed bent on finding a foothold somewhere within the limits of the really beautiful building which No. 101 has erected for its accommodation and profit. It was a thoroughly happy crowd temporarily dedicated to amusement the acquisition—by the Union—of The feature of the evening—the corps of lady assistants always excepted-was the Washington Light Infantry Corps.
